MHE69098 – Commuter Train Wall Art

The blur of colors and shapes of follow commuter train riders inspired me for this composition. The inability to focus on the exact detail of what the passenger has on or what they are doing intrigued me so. What a fast-paced world we all live in and the separation from each other as we move through each day. Each of these pieces are embellished by hand with touches of giclee to highlight and add texture to each canvas.
