MHE81029 – Drunken Metal Martini Table

Bone inlay became one of the hottest trends in home decor. Originating in 18th century Japan, the intricate patterns and techniques have been considered valued works of art through the ages. Here we have applied this technique to our Drunken Metal Martini Table. The Aluminum base is finished in a rich silver pewter with a jaunty curve and topped by a round black and white bone inlay top. Its small footprint makes it the perfect table for small spaces
